The "Greater Bay Area" (GBA) refers to the Chinese government's scheme to link up Hong Kong, Macau, Guangzhou, Shenzhen, Zhuhai, Foshan, Zhongshan, Dongguan, Huizhou, Jiangmen and Zhaoqing into an integrated economic and business hub. With a population close to 70 million, the GBA provides great opportunity to develop new businesses for entrepreneurs. New technologies, business models, and the communities are influencing other parts of China, neighbour countries, and perhaps the rest of the world. This open forum organized by the Department of Computing (COMP), Hong Kong Polytechnic University, invites scholars and professionals to share their views on how we can grow this GBA together, driving the changes in technology, business, and society.
